

Shame, but they die
as softly,going off
like fairies, while the warrior remains \

grounded,the age of
of duty,

ploughing down evil
alongside the occasional
woman and child.

to the conservation
of those breaking
nails and teacups.

''''''''W YORK Karl Zinsmeister, the new chief domestic adviser to President Bush, while embedded as a reporter with the 82nd Airborne in Kuwait in 2003, declared that "many of the journalists observable in this war theater are bursting with knee-jerk suspicions and antagonisms for the warriors all around them. A significant number are whiny and appallingly soft."
